In Hinduism, the Vedas are considered the most sacred and authoritative scriptures. They are a collection of ancient texts that form the foundation of Hindu religious and philosophical teachings. The word "Veda" is derived from the Sanskrit root "vid," which means knowledge or wisdom. The Vedas are believed to have been revealed to ancient sages or Rishis through divine revelation. Veda Patashalas are traditional schools that focus on the study and recitation of Vedic scriptures. These institutions play a crucial role in preserving and promoting the ancient Vedic knowledge and traditions in India.

The Vedas are considered apauruṣeya, which means they are not the works of any human author but are considered to be of divine origin. They have been passed down orally from generation to generation for thousands of years. The texts are written in Vedic Sanskrit, an ancient form of the Sanskrit language.

The Vedas hold immense significance in Hinduism and are the basis for various schools of philosophy, rituals, and spiritual practices. They are revered and studied by scholars, priests, and devotees alike to gain spiritual wisdom and insight into the eternal truths of existence. The study and recitation of the Vedas continue to be an essential part of Hindu religious and cultural traditions.

There are four main Vedas in Hinduism:

Rigveda

- The Rigveda is the oldest and most important of the four Vedas. It consists of hymns, prayers, and praises dedicated to various deities, natural forces, and cosmic principles. The Rigveda is considered the foundation of Indian spiritual thought and contains insights into the nature of the universe and the divine.

Yajurveda

- The Yajurveda deals with the performance of rituals and ceremonies. It provides the instructions and mantras that priests recite during religious ceremonies and sacrifices. The Yajurveda is divided into two parts: the Shukla Yajurveda (White Yajurveda) and the Krishna Yajurveda (Black Yajurveda).

Samaveda

- The Samaveda consists of chants and melodies used during rituals and sacrifices. It is a liturgical collection of hymns derived from the Rigveda, set to music. The Samaveda emphasizes the musical aspect of Vedic rituals and is performed with precise intonation and rhythm.

Atharvaveda

- The Atharvaveda contains a mix of hymns, charms, and magical incantations. It deals with various practical aspects of life, including healing, protection, and prosperity. Unlike the other Vedas, the Atharvaveda covers a wide range of subjects and is often considered the "Veda of everyday life."

Ayushman Bharat:

- This scheme came into existence because of recommendations made by the National Health Policy. Ayushman Bharat Yojana is designed keeping in mind Universal Health Coverage (UHC). Health services in India are largely segmented and Ayushman Bharat aims to make them comprehensive. It is about looking at the health sector as a whole and ensure continuous care for the people of India.
- There are two components related to Ayushman Bharat: Health and Wellness Centres (HWC) and Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (PM-JAY). 150000 HWCs have been created in order to ensure better healthcare for the people. These HWCs are transformed versions of earlier initiatives like Sub Centres and Primary Health Centres. The PM-JAY is a health insurance scheme for the poor. It offers a health cover of Rs. 5 lakhs per family on an annual basis, and the payable premium is Rs. 30.

Aam Aadmi Bima Yojana:

- The Aam Aadmi Bima Yojana (AABY) is meant for people involved in certain vocations such as Carpentry, Fishing, Handloom weaving, etc. There are 48 such defined vocations. Before 2013, there were two policies of similar nature, AABY and Janashree Bima Yojana (JBY). After 2013, JBY was merged with AABY.
- The premium for Rs.30000 insurance policy is Rs. 200 for a year. The eligibility criteria for this policy is that one should be a family head or an earning member of one's family (around the poverty line) and should be performing one of the 48 mentioned vocations.

Central Government Health Scheme (CGHS):

- As the name suggests, this policy is initiated by India's Central Government. Central Government employees are eligible for this policy. For example, Supreme Court judges, Certain Railway Board employees, etc. This policy has been active for six decades and has covered more than 35 lakh employees and pensioners.
- Hospitalization, as well as domiciliary care, are covered as per this plan's terms and conditions. Central Government Health Insurance Scheme covers Allopathy and Homeopathy as well. It is available in 71 cities and the plan is to expand the scope to more areas.

Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana:

- This scheme came into existence to offer accident insurance to the people of India. In 2016, it was observed that only 20% of the Indian citizens had an insurance cover. However, Pradhan Mantri Suraksha Bima Yojana aspires to change this statistic in a positive manner.
- People aged 18 to 70 and having a bank account can avail of the benefits of this scheme. This policy offers an annual cover of Rs. 1 lakh for partial disability and Rs. 2 lakhs for total disability/death for a premium of Rs. 12. The premium gets debited automatically from the insured person's bank account.

Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana:

- This scheme is directed towards people working in the unorganized sector. Often, they are not covered under any insurance policy. And in such a scenario, if they fall ill – which happens frequently – their savings get exhausted. Thus, they are never able to ensure they have savings in the bank. This is where health insurance can prove helpful to them.
- Rashtriya Swasthya Bima Yojana is initiated by the Indian Government's Ministry of Labour and Employment. Individuals workers in the unorganized sector and below the poverty line are covered under this scheme. The cover also extends to their family (maximum of five members).

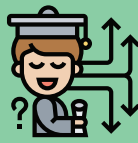

Success is not merely achieving a goal; it's the journey of resilience, learning, and self-discovery that molds us into the best version of ourselves.
